

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Lori M. Jones, Jordan Myers, and Ashna Zaheer
Join The ALS Association of Georgia's Board of Directors

Atlanta, GA (July 2018) – The ALS Association of Georgia is pleased to announce that Lori M. Jones, Jordan Myers, and Ashna Zaheer have been named to its Board of Directors. Each will contribute a unique skillset to the nonprofit organization dedicated to the fight against amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS).

Lori M Jones currently serves as the Chief Revenue Officer with Connance, a healthcare predictive analytic technology source to optimize financial and clinical workflows for hospitals and clinicians. Her previous board service includes 10 years on the American Diabetes Board. Her dedication and commitment to ALS comes from a desire to support The Association through Advocacy and Care Services to provide a voice and make a difference for those with ALS. Her skillset and passion for helping others will be invaluable as The ALS Association Georgia Chapter looks forward to future growth and development of programs and services to those living with ALS.

Jordan Myers, Counsel with Alston & Bird, advises clients in all stages of lending relationships, representing financial institutions, alternative lenders and private equity funds in a variety of secured financing transactions. His desire to serve The ALS Association Georgia Chapter is rooted in his personal experience with ALS. His father was diagnosed in early 2018. Jordan will be able to serve The Association through the eyes of a caretaker and patient advocate. His skillset and passion will be a great addition to The Association.

Ashna Zaheer is Securities Counsel at The Coca-Cola Company and is responsible for providing legal counsel to the Company on matters of corporate governance, public company disclosure and securities law compliance, as well as planning for the Board of Directors and Board committee meetings. Ashna, the daughter of a Professor of Neurology, grew up in her father's research lab and witnessed the debilitating effects of neurological diseases. Her passion is to serve on the Board with the ability to make a real difference in the lives of those afflicted with ALS and their family members.

About The ALS Association of Georgia

The ALS Association of Georgia is the only nationally affiliated not-for-profit health organization dedicated solely to the fight against ALS. The ALS Association of Georgia provides an array of support through our Care Services Programs such as: one-on-one consultations, an equipment loaner program, support groups, the Sally Panfel In-Home Care & Respite Program, the Paul B. Williams Transportation Program, and support for ALS clinics in Atlanta, Augusta and Macon. The local chapter also joins with chapters across the country to support research and participate in federal advocacy initiatives.
